

Tax-Exempt Private Credit Fund

(TSIFX)

The Tax-Exempt Private Credit Fund's objective is to seek to generate attractive total return with an emphasis on tax-exempt income. The fund may depart from its stated investment objectives and policies as the fund liquidates its holdings.

On October 24, 2024 the closed end interval fund shareholders approved a plan of liquidation and termination whereby the closed end interval fund will seek to conduct an orderly liquidation to harvest the value of its assets, pay debts, make liquidating distributions to shareholders "and the removal of the fundamental policy of making quarterly offers to repurchase between 5% and 25% of its outstanding shares at net asset value". The closed end interval fund currently expects to return liquidation proceeds through periodic distributions, while aiming to complete the liquidation around mid-2027, all subject to market conditions. The mid-2027 target final liquidation date is not definitive, and the completion of the liquidation may occur before or after this target date. - (3) The gross current yield of a bond or other debt instrument is calculated by dividing the annual coupon amount of all debt/bonds in the portfolio by the current market price. This measure does not reflect fees or expenses. This calculation does not include non-income items.
- (4) Reflects the deduction of management fees and other fund expenses up to the expense cap. Subsidized yield reflects fee waivers and/or expense reimbursements recorded by the fund during the period. The Expense Limitation and Reimbursement Agreement was terminated effective November 1, 2024. Without waivers and/or reimbursements, yields would be reduced.
- (5) The Taxable-equivalent yield represents the yield that must be earned on a fully taxable investment in order to equal the yield of the Fund on an after-tax basis at a specified tax rate. If the comparison were instead to investments that generate qualified dividend income, which is taxable at a ratelower than an individual's ordinary graduated tax rate, the Fund's Taxable-equivalent yield would be lower. The Taxable-equivalent yield is based on the Fund's SEC 30-day yield on the indicated date and a federal income tax rate of 40.8% (maximum federal income tax rate and the Medicare tax). Investors should consider their own tax rate when investing in municipal bonds.
- (6) Distribution rate is not performance and is calculated by annualizing the distribution per share for the preceding 3-month period and dividing it by the net asset value as of the reported date. This calculation does not include any non-income items such as loan proceeds, borrowings or return of capital.
- (7) Private represents those portfolio investments originated by the fund. Public represents those portfolio investments originated by public entities.
- (8) Does not reflect the deduction of management fees and other fund expenses up to the expense cap. If management fees and expenses had been included, returns would be reduced. The Expense Limitation and Reimbursement Agreement was terminated effective November 1, 2024.

On June 21, 2024, the Fund's prospectus was amended to suspend offers and sales of its common shares effective as of that date. This fact sheet must be preceded or accompanied by the current prospectus. Click here for current prospectus.

Investing involves risks. Principal loss is possible. The fund is suitable only for investors who can bear the risks associated with the limited liquidity of the fund and should be viewed as a long-term investment. There currently is no secondary market for the fund's shares and the adviser does not expect that a secondary market will develop. Litigation, legislation or other political events, local business or economic conditions or the bankruptcy of the issuer could have a significant effect on the ability of an issuer of municipal bonds to make payments of principal and/or interest. Changes related to taxation, legislation or the rights of municipal security holders can significantly affect municipal bonds. Because the fund concentrates its investments in Municipal-Related Securities the fund may be subject to increased volatility. Investments in debt securities typically decrease in value when interest rates rise. This risk is usually greater for longer-term debt securities. Investment by the fund in lower-rated and non-rated securities presents a greater risk of loss to principal and interest than higher-rated securities. The fund may invest in derivative securities, which derive their performance from the performance of an underlying asset, index, interest rate or currency exchange rate. Derivatives can be volatile and involve various types and degrees of risks. Depending on the characteristics of the particular derivative, it could become illiquid. The fund may utilize leverage, which is a speculative technique that may adversely affect common shareholders if the return on investments acquired with borrowed fund or other leverage proceeds do not exceed the cost of the leverage, causing the fund to lose money.

Average life is the weighted period of time required to repay half of the bond issue through scheduled principal payments (e.g., maturity, sinking fund redemption, etc.). It is a reflection of the rapidity with which the principal of an issue is expected to be paid. Duration is a commonly used measure of the potential volatility of the price of a debt security, or the aggregate market value of a portfolio of debt securities, prior to maturity. Securities with a longer duration generally have more volatile prices than securities of comparable quality with a shorter duration. Effective duration is a measure of the price sensitivity of bonds with embedded options (e.g., callable bonds) to changes in benchmark yields. This measure of duration takes into account the fact that expected cash flows will fluctuate as interest rates change. Effective duration can be estimated using modified duration for bonds without option features. ESG is a system for how to measure the sustainability of a company or investment in three specific categories: environmental, social and governance. 30-Day SEC Yield is an annualized yield based on the most recent 30-day period covered by the fund's filings with the SEC. The yield figure reflects the dividends and interest earned during the period after the deduction of the fund's expenses. Yield to worst is an aggregate of all debt/bonds in the portfolio and a measure of the lowest possible yield that can be received on a bond that fully operates within the terms of its contract without defaulting. It is a type of yield that is referenced when a bond has provisions that would allow the issuer to close it out before it matures. The municipal investments in the portfolio may be tax-exempt at the federal level, but taxes may still be applicable at the state and/or local level. Diversification does not assure a profit nor protect against loss in a declining market. Fund holdings and sector allocations are subject to change and are not recommendations to buy or sell any security. Due to rounding, totals may not equal 100%.
